

The scholarship is open to anyone of any age attending a full time photographic course and to any photographer of 24 years and under.

THE IAN PARRY SCHOLARSHIP

The scholarship will be a prize of £3500 towards the cost of your chosen assignment, which will be published in The Sunday Times* Magazine and £500 for the runners up. The winning entry and selected finalist's work will also be exhibited in London.

There is no entry fee.

The deadline is JULY 1st

3 Stage entry criteria:

- 1) A completed entry form
- 2) A portfolio of not more than 12 low resolution digital photographs, either a photo-essay or individual photos. (Please follow the instructions on our website carefully) You must include a caption for each image in the metadata with your name, contact details.
- 3) A detailed written proposal of your chosen assignment. It should be noted that this written section is considered extremely important. The judges will need to be impressed by your ability to produce a convincing assignment proposal as well as your photography skills.

Application form:

Name:

College:

Date of birth:

Course Title:

Permanent Address:

Course tutor:

Personal Email:

Personal telephone:

*The Sunday Times reserves the right to publish material entered for the award.

Sponsored by:

PHOTOGRAPHY

FRONTLINE
CHAMPIONING INDEPENDENT JOURNALISM

Canon

THE SUNDAY TIMES

Save the Children